The school year has been a favorable one so far as contagious diseases is concerned and yet the prevailing epidemic known to our people as the "Grip" has had its effect upon individual members of our schools to some extent. The terms of the year have been unbroken so far as the graded schools are concerned.

In selecting teachers for all schools it has been our practice to secure teachers of experience when possible, and in following out that rule in our graded system we have retained the same teachers throughout the year. We are aware that an occasional exception has been taken to our judgment in this regard but a change of instructors in the grade during the school year for some slight objection urged for purely personal reasons is unwise and unsafe as we view it, especially when that person is doing faithful, conscientious work and the success of the entire system depends to a great extent upon the part that teacher takes in the work.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The high school, as last year, has been under the able instruction of W. F. Kenrick, a gentleman of unquestioned ability as a teacher, and we are pleased to note that the school has steadily increased in numbers and popularity under his care until the question of seating capacity has become a matter of some concern which may soon develop into a demand for more room. The courses of study have been arranged with a view of accomodating all scholars who may desire to avail themselves of the benefits of a high school course whatever their intentions may be regarding higher education in the future. This school is maintained as a free high school for twenty weeks in the year and scholars from the rural districts have availed themselves of its privileges to quite an extent the past year. For the benefit of those who contemplate entering the spring term, copies of the courses of study will be furnished to those who may apply to the principal or to the superintendent of schools.

The village or graded schools number ten and are under the instruction of the following teachers.

High School, W. F. Kenrick, Principal; Jennie Emery, Assistant.

First Grammar, Miss M. A. Wetherell.

Second Grammar, Miss Nellie C. Baker, Miss Fannie F. Cate.

Intermediate, Miss Gertrude A. Curtis, Miss Nellie B. Nye.

First Primary, Miss Eva O. Osborn, Miss Caddie L. Osborn.

Second Primary, Mrs. Lottie Burrill, Miss Edith Savage.

The spring term of these schools began April 9th and continued eleven weeks.

The autumn term began September 10th and continued twelve weeks, and the winter term began January 7th to continue eight weeks.

It is safe to affirm that nearly all of the teachers now in our employ are instructors of well-known ability and their success in their respective grades a matter of general knowledge to our people.

THE SHAWMUT SCHOOLS.

We have been most fortunate in the selection of teachers for these schools for the past two terms at least. The grammar grade, under the instruction of Miss Mary Brown, has been an unqualified success. She is a teacher of large experience in this grade and brings much personal magnetism to bear upon a rather dispirited group of scholars, who have been obliged to withstand the evil effects of continual change of teachers, which means continual mixing of methods. The school work has been systematized, and the interest manifested in the work by the scholars at a recent visit of the superintendent, was to him a sure indication of right conditions in the school. This teacher can and should be retained in this school throughout the coming year.

The primary grade, under the care of Miss Katie O'Brien, has been very satisfactorily managed and good progress made by the little ones.

The ungraded schools of the town have, as a rule, been under the instruction of teachers of large experience, having been employed by us for many terms. The exceptions to this rule may be found in the cases of Martin Stream, North Fairfield and Fairfield Corners. At Martin Stream, the school was taught in the spring and autumn by Miss Josephine Toward of Waterville, a graduate of Colby College, whose educational qualifications are of the best; and in the winter term by Mr. A. Hooper, a teacher of little experience, but possessed of good qualifications for the management of a rather boisterous school. The North Fairfield school was, at its autumn term, under the care of Miss Amelia Ames, a graduate of Fairfield High school. The winter term, after some considerable delay in consequence of sickness of scholars, was taken up by Mrs. L. Decker, a teacher of experience; but her health soon gave out and the school was closed, after a little less than four weeks. Miss Hannah Wentworth has been employed to teach for the remaining weeks of the term, which fact is a good guarantee of success at last.

The Fairfield Corners school has been in charge of Miss Lena Balentine for two terms, autumn and winter, who has been fairly successful in her work; but owing to sickness of teacher and scholars, the progress of the school has been interrupted to a great extent.

The other country schools have been very successfully managed and we feel that general satisfaction must have resulted in the several districts.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

No radical changes have been made in the school books for the year. We have purchased new books for some of the schools, with a view of keeping up with the ideas advanced by the different authors and publishers, having in mind the importance of practically testing the merits of new books by placing them in actual use before making changes in the regular series now in use.

Much supplemental reading is required in the schools of today and in selecting from the school literature along these lines, we have adopted such reading matter as would tend to awaken in scholars a love of nature and for nature's animate things. It is pleasing to note that little children from this fact are coming to regard the lives of little things as of some consequence to the world, and a feeling of sympathy for animals is awakened through intelligent instruction of this character.

Maps, charts and other helps have been added to the school resources until we may say that our schools are supplied to a greater extent than most country schools in the State.

REPAIRS.

The ordinary small repairs of the year have been made to the school property and several of the buildings newly shingled, some reseated, and in others quite important improvements made, so that with the exception of painting, the school property is in good condition.

GENERAL REMARKS.

A system of ranking has been adopted in the village schools whereby parents desirous of keeping in touch with the school affairs of their pupils may, upon application to the respective teachers, ascertain at any time the exact standing of each pupil. This it seems to us is a step in the right direction, as not only parents may be at all times apprised of the rank of the scholar but the pupils themselves are continually reminded of the actual status of their individual cases by a reference to the ranking book which is at all times open for their inspection, and it seems to us that it furnishes an incentive to study and stimulates them to action in order that they may not be found wanting when the time comes for promotion.

It is a matter of profound interest to the school officers, teachers, and pupils, to know that they are to receive the benefit, at an early date, of the free public library, with all of the blessings which will accrue from the same, made possible by the generous action of our respected townsman, Edward J. Lawrence. We are assured that a large number of the scholars will at once, avail themselves of these privileges upon its completion.

Respectfully submitted,

F. E. MCFADDEN, Supt.
